BOAT BUILDING - EDUCATION - EXHIBITS - ROWING

Lowell's Boat Shop is a National Landmark & working museum dedicated to preserving and perpetuating the art and craft of wooden boat building.

Continuing to build our full line of dories & skiffs for oar, sail or power.

Since 1793

Established in 1793 and cited as the birthplace of the legendary fishing dory, Lowell's Boat Shop is the oldest continually operating boat shop in the United States. As the sole survivor of the area's renowned dory manufacturing industry, Lowell's maintains its time-honored tradition as skilled craftsmen continue to build the dories and skiffs that were once the mainstay of the fishing industry in New England. Simple, seaworthy, economical and attractive, the dory was — and continues to be — a symbol of New England ingenuity and integrity. From the sleek Atlantic Skiff to the sturdy Surf Dory, Lowell's line of boats represents the highest standards of craftsmanship and design.

Dories & Skiffs

Located on the picturesque banks of the Merrimack River, this non-profit working museum and National Landmark is dedicated to preserving and perpetuating the art and craft of wooden boat building. Centuries of boat building are brought to life at this remarkable site as LBS conveys its rich history through the boats it builds, its collections and the stories they tell, guided tours, and classes. Innovative educational programs, exhibits, and events are offered to the public throughout the year, and rowing is available to members seasonally.

Volunteer

Visit, participate and become involved!

Visitors are welcomed to the Boat Shop by the aroma of freshly sawn cedar and an aura of gritty authenticity. You do not have to be knowledgeable about boats to be a member or volunteer at Lowell's; diverse opportunities prevail for participation at all levels. While the river and boats beckon some, others are drawn to additional elements of the Shop: artists and photographers to the aesthetic, tradesmen to the practical, and "hands on" to the essential. As boats are being built, volunteers plan events and programs, explore archival material, maintain the buildings and grounds, and refinish and repair boats for members and customers to enjoy. LBS is a community with a shared passion for its past, present, and future. We invite you to join us in this unique experience and incomparable venue.
